He has given us impetus as we progress along the path toward intellectual enlightenment. He has formed in many of us the foundation for intelligent thinking and critical inquiry. An able economist and historian, but always a friend and counselor to his pupils, his contribution to our lives shall always maintain its significance.

It is with respect and admiration that the 1942 Massasoit is dedicated to

Foreword

Heaven is not reached at a single bound;

We build the ladder by which we rise

From the lowly earth to the vaulted skies,

And we mount to its summit round by round.

CLASS OF 'FORTY-TWO

*"Strangers once, we came to dwell together,
Sons of our Mother, wise and true;*

THE winds blew in hurricane proportions and the rains came down from the opened heavens. A bedraggled and bewildered lot of strangers invaded Freshman Headquarters located in Alumni Hall — this was to be the Class of '42. Mental tests, aptitude tests, tests of motor ability in the gymnasium and swimming pool were administered to the group in rapid succession. The Sophomores added to the melee by initiating the Frosh to the cold waters of the Massasoit. An unorganized group were swished through the icy waters in the Annual Rope Pull by the heartless Sophs. Leaders appeared out of the group to give a semblance of unity to the class. Victory in the cane rush did much to assuage the feelings of the till-then much trod upon yearlings. Then, quiet—all bent to the task of "hitting the books" so that we might be allowed to remain in the institution.

*"Now we're bound by ties that cannot

All our whole lives through.

In seemingly rapid succession came the Frosh ball, the wonderful times at Frosh camp; and as we moved along, there came the succession of Stepping-Up Days which saw the group move nearer and nearer its goal of graduation and preparation for life-work in physical education and social agency work. The Soph hop, the work days at camp, and a long list of other events quickly gave the group a feeling of belongingness at Springfield—we were all Springfield Men. The crowning affair was the Junior Prom with its good times for all.

*"Gather closer, hand to hand,
The time has come when we must part;
Still the ties of college life will linger
Ever in each heart."*

And now we've come to the time when we are preparing to "Leave Old Massasoit." Mingled feelings of elation at being able to go out into the field and of sadness at knowing that we shall be leaving behind, perhaps forever, the many friends we have come to know in our associations at Springfield. The upperclassmen when we were Frosh, the Frosh when we were upperclassmen, the professors (about whose assignments we often griped) and administrators of the institution — many shall pass into the limbo of memories. But these memories of all that we held close during our actual stay on campus will ever linger with us. As we look around we notice that many faces are missing from the original class—many new faces have been added. We'll remember the old and the new alike. We'll recall those who left school to join the armed forces after the sudden attack on our country's possessions and our anxiety concerning whether we would be able to finish a task so near completion before our draft boards saw fit to choose us for service.

Memories! Memories! As the years go by they shall serve to bind us more closely to all who helped guide us through the formative four years of college life. In return we shall serve them by living, and helping live, "Springfield," our ideals embodying the best of the best that our Alma Mater stands for.

*"Now raise the rosy goblet high,
The Seniors chalice, and belie
The tongues that slander and defile,
For we have yet a little while
To linger — Youth — and You and I —
In college Days."*

CLASS OF 'FORTY-THREE

IN the face of an uncertain future the class of 1943 opened its third year at Springfield College with a schedule of events which presented a challenge to every brave in the '43 wigwam.

A college song book, the first of its kind, published by the Junior Prom Committee was the first successful venture. This compact folio of the current popular school verses met with the approval of the students, the faculty, and the alumni. To Walt Bally, Ed Keyes, and Andy Syka the class owes a debt of gratitude for this fine and profitable endeavor.

The annual college calendar, a Junior Class project, was well organized and unique in its presentation of photographs of college athletic activities. The Calendar Committee is deserving of much credit.

Despite numerous interruptions in the selection of a committee chairman, the class finally entrusted Walt Bally with the organization of a bigger and better Junior Prom. Plans were hurried when the Administration announced a definite acceleration in the College program and a moving ahead of the graduation date. However, we rest assured that this year's promenade, despite the many obstacles, will be as gala a social event as ever.

The division of editorial responsibilities between Cal Hall and Emile Faubert, insured the class a good yearbook. With the paper priorities and financial limitations governing their every move and decision, the co-editors and their committee worked diligently to send to press a yearbook which would be most representative of sincere efforts in the face of terrific odds.

Having established a precedent as leaders in interclass sports, the Junior class once again endeavored to maintain supremacy in athletics. In the Fall of 1941 the class was victorious in soccer. As the Winter program materialized it became apparent that competition for the plaque, now held by the '43-ers, was greater this year than previously.

In spite of all the projects which had been added to the already heavy schedules of the third-year men it was evident that their social interest had not perished. A late Fall social gathering in Carlisle Foyer was a great success, as was the Fall homecoming dance which followed the A.I.C. Springfield gridiron tussle.

During the year nine Juniors left to join the armed forces, while thirteen were on the ever-lengthening list of prospects. To these, our classmates, as well as to all Springfield men, the class of 1943 wishes to extend a word of success for the future.

CLASS OF 'FORTY-FOUR

As the first days of the fall term began to pass and the pages of the second chapter of Our Life at Springfield College began to unfold, our first observance was that we, the class of 1944, had lost many of our most loyal members. These men had gone to every corner of the nation with the army, navy, marines, and coast guard. This, however, was just an introduction to what must inevitably follow throughout the year.

Despite these changes we were soon back in the swing of things and, as is the usual custom, the Sophomores made sure that the Freshmen were properly initiated.

Possibly the greatest contribution of our class was in the field of athletics, for in the fall the football, soccer, and cross-country teams were studded with sterling sophomore stars. It was one cheer after the other for Hoff, Tripp, Disque, Cleveland, Greenhalgh, Druce, Christ, and the many other men of '44 who helped to "hold that line."

When the pages of our second chapter had turned past the one-third mark and we had returned from an appreciated Christmas vacation, our basketball team was already well on the road to a successful season. On the court it was Cox to Merrick and Thompson to Barney or Kalbaugh, for the Maroon five was composed of nearly all Sophomores. In the pool and on the apparatus and mats we were also well represented.

In early December the United States declared war and once again there seemed to be a good many men leaving the campus. Many of those called were from the class of '44. As the war became more grave and the call for enlistments more urgent we saw students continually leaving our class for the ranks. The general morale was kept high, however, by the wonderful spirit it displayed by those who remained.

Our President, Harry McCormick, showed excellent leadership throughout the entire year as did Vice-President Bob Esty and Treasurer Jesse Owens. The class as a whole worked together very smoothly and succeeded in accomplishing full realization of the goals that were set at the beginning of the year.

At the close of this — our second year at Springfield, we all look forward to the future with uncertainty, for what our parts will be during the next few years, none of us can tell. Many, no doubt, will be back in the fall to resume their studies as Juniors — others, however, will not. Yet despite this we have before us the knowledge that for two years we have worked and lived together. Wherever we may be in the future and whatever we may be doing, we will always know and remember that others of our class are striving to fulfill what they believe are the steadfast ideals of Springfield men.

CLASS OF 'FORTY-FIVE

THE Class of 1945 arrived on the Springfield College campus officially on September 17, 1941, bringing with it a new spirit which was quickly caught by the upperclassmen. They were cordially greeted and divided into small groups with upperclassmen as counsellors. The fellows got acquainted quickly and spent the next few days taking placement tests, and visiting the homes of the faculty. This orientation week closed with a supper at the college camp and an informal talk by Dr. Seashore that will long be remembered.

The following Monday classes began and "College Days" took on new meaning for the Frosh. Classroom toils were explained by the professors and the term papers began to pile up.

Just when the students were beginning to go to the right classes at the right time rumors of "Freshman Week" began to be circulated by the Sophomores. This caused a bit of uneasiness on the part of some of the yearlings but they kept the undaunted spirit which they had brought to the campus.

Freshman Week followed and every day found new excitement for the bewildered Frosh. The Stunt night "gym exhibition" will long be remembered by the Freshmen and the local vegetable dealers. It ended with a party on the shores of Lake Massasoit. However, the Class of '45 gained sweet revenge by winning the annual rope-pull in the record time of 56 seconds.

As the weeks rolled by the need for a governing cabinet became apparent. George Helwig, Herb Barwell, Ted Smith, Dressor Woodworth, and Bill Whitaker were elected to serve until the regular election could be held. The cabinet arranged a successful joint dance with the Nisimaha Girl's Club which was held on November 29.

In January the regular officers of the class were chosen. They included Wilbur Hornstra as President; Wilbur Eaton, Athletic Chairman; Irving McConchie, Social Chairman; James Fulton, Treasurer; and Ted Smith, Secretary.

Throughout the long winter term the Frosh became absorbed in their courses and became victims of the highly touted "learning process." Sleeping in classes was not uncommon and the familiar cry about "8 o'clocks" was echoed loud. However, social life was not overlooked; a joint dance with the Y. W. C. A. girls, held on March 14th, was a great success.

The "Freshman Spirit" is exemplified by the way in which the 45-ers carried the Varsity football team and the coaches off the field after the A. I. C. game.

The Class of 1945 worked hard all year to uphold the traditions of Springfield College and, while their ranks were becoming more depleted by the necessities of the international situation, those who remained kept in mind the college slogan — spirit, mind, and body.

GRADUATE STUDENTS

The graduate division, depopulated to a greater extent than other departments, is now composed of 13 members of at least half-time status, all of whom are serving as assistants in some area.

Unable for lack of numbers to function as a social or scholastic unit, the division, under the able guidance of Dr. Limbert, confined itself to steering the individual courses of its personnel.

As a general alteration of policy most members now plan to complete study within a year's residence as contrasted to the previous tendency to utilize the two-year assistantship arrangement.

Basketball JUBILEE

FIRST BASKETBALL TEAM 1891

UST FIFTY YEARS AGO a young instructor at the Training School for Christian Workers, located on Winchester Square in Springfield, Mass., was faced with the problem of how to keep his students healthy and interested during the long winter months when vigorous outdoor exercise was rendered impossible. "I need a game," he said, "a game which will give the boys the action they want without the danger of most boisterous gymnasium games." After attempting many refinements of already existing games, the young instructor hit upon the totally new idea of elevating the goal position, thereby substituting skill for mere strength.

The young instructor was Jim Naismith; the game was basketball.

When Jim Naismith died in 1941, he was Dr. James A. Naismith, professor emeritus of Springfield College and the University of Kansas, famed throughout the world as the father of the fastest, trickiest game on two feet. In the fifty years since its inception, basketball has become the greatest sports attraction in the nation, annually drawing a greater attendance than either baseball or football.

It is a far cry from the bemoustached basketeers of the first team to the fast-breaking, satin-clad members of the fiftieth Springfield College team, but in each of the fifty Springfield teams there has been a feeling of kinship with the sport to which no other college can lay claim. In 1942 Captain Charles "Chick" Kistner, the lone senior of a squad of fifteen men, led his team from a slow start to a finish that found the Maroons capturing ten of their last thirteen games. Sophomores Vernon Cox, Ross Merrick, and Robert Thompson proved the spark-plugs of the team which reached its greatest heights in losing a 55-57 contest to the Blackbirds of Long Island University in the Golden Ball Game for the City of Springfield.

Jim Naismith's contribution to the world of athletics has been inestimable in its scope. In tribute to him, hundreds of basketball teams have met together in Golden Ball Games, the proceeds of which are added to a fund to erect a memorial to the honor of the game's inventor. It is fitting and proper that the memorial to Naismith be erected on the campus of Springfield College, the modern-day Training School for Christian Workers, where he spent so many fruitful and happy years.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The beginning of a long hoped-to-be rivalry between the Springfield College and A. I. C. football teams was started this fall. The season found a new coach, "Mannie" Mansfield, '25, at the helm of the Maroon gridiron machine, with sparkling Co-captains Paul Rose and Karl Kurth to lead the team.

"Mannie" and the 1941 team will long be remembered for the "new" spirit they brought to Springfield—for their grit, determination, and ability to take it. Springfield hails its 1941 football team—they gave their "all"!

VARSITY CROSS-COUNTRY

Winning three meets in four starts the College cross-country team romped home to a successful season. The Maroon harriers also finished fourth in the Connecticut Valley Intercollegiate meet held at New London and came home in a tie for seventh place in the New England meet held at Boston. Billy Booth was elected captain of next year's combine. Other insignia winners were Roy Lang, Vern Cox, Bob Smith, Ray Waters, Charles Anderson, Wes Woll, and Manager Stan Bush.

VARSITY SOCCER

Springfield's 1941 soccer season was highlighted by a drive of inspired players whose will to win surmounted handicaps and obstacles to bring to Springfield College its third New England Championship. Despite the loss of six veterans through the draft, this team incorporated a fighting spirit with a short passing attack which enabled the Maroon and White to come through undefeated. No man was a star; all were vital cogs in a winning machine. Schmidt was elected captain of the 1942 squad.

VARSITY WRESTLING

Coach Pennock's matmen, defending New England Champions, failed to return to the victor's throne for a third successive year, placing fifth in the New England Championships. The squad was led by Co-Captain Bud Schuman, with the other half of the co-captain combination, Sonny Beiseigle, a draftee in the army.

The dual meet season found the squad hampered by injuries, lack of reserve material and general inexperience. They sported two victories and two ties in eight starts.

VARSITY GYM TEAM

Once again Coach Judd's gym team enjoyed a successful season, performing before capacity audiences throughout the East. The highlight of the season proved to be the Homecoming Exhibition in the Municipal Auditorium where the boys, led by Captain Roger Burke, exhibited top form, treating the citizens of Springfield to a rare display of beauty, co-ordination, and daring. A new triumph was registered by the Maroon gymnasts when they performed in the General Electric Television Studios at Schenectady, N. Y.

INDOOR TRACK

Under the able coaching of Artie Byrnes, the Indoor Trackers, hampered by lack of numbers, enjoyed a moderately successful season. Springfield took second honors in a triangular meet with W. P. I. and Mass. State, and came in third in a similar meet with Amherst and W. P. I. The Maroons were beaten in a contest with Wesleyan, 67-44. Dunphy and Booth sparked the team with their excellent performance in the 35-yard dash and mile, respectively. Lang, Farina, Kurth, Hoff, and Miller made creditable showings. Rog Whitney was manager.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Led by Captain "Chick" Kistner, the sophomores sparked the varsity basketball team through a very successful season. The locals compiled a record of 14 victories as against six defeats. They opened rather slowly during the Christmas holidays, only to hit their stride and win ten out of their last thirteen games played. Highlight of the season was the narrow 57-55 loss to L. I. U.'s nationally known quintette in the Maroons' Golden Ball Game.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

Under the able tutelage of Dale Lash, the junior varsity basketball team enjoyed a most successful year, winning 10 and losing 5 contests. After dropping three close games in the early part of the season, the fast-breaking J. V.'s copped nine in a row before losing two heartbreakers to Amherst and Lynn Y. Despite the loss of Richardson and Headley in mid-season the Lashmen had the reserve power and the physical condition necessary for victory.

VARSITY SWIMMING TEAM

The varsity tankmen scored four victories in nine dual meets during the 1942 campaign. Victories were at the expense of Brown, Connecticut, Rider, and Williams while the Maroons fell before Army, Yale, Amherst, and Dartmouth. The Maroon natators did, however, finish second in the New England Intercollegiate meet and managed to capture six first places in the N. E. A. A. U. meet conducted at Springfield. Ed Smyke retained his New England Intercollegiate diving title.

SPRINGFIELD COLLEGE HOCKEY CLUB

Due to shortage of money in the Athletic Department budget this year, and the lack of a coach, varsity hockey was discontinued as a regular winter season sport. However, this action did not discourage a group of fifteen Springfield College hockey enthusiasts, who, under the most diverse practice and equipment conditions, formed a college hockey club. Playing two games, both with the Mass. State sextette, the locals bowed 1-0 in the first encounter and won 6-2 in the second meeting.

VARSITY BASEBALL

Coach H. S. DeGroat's varsity diamond combine was hit very hard by graduation and the Selective Service Act, but several promising sophomores and reserves have shown great skill. The Sachem combine faces an abbreviated nine-game schedule. The highlight of the season will be the second annual nocturnal skirmish with the A. I. C. nine. The schedule: April 11, Trinity, A.; 17, Middlebury, H.; 22, Providence, H.; 29, Conn., H.; May 2, Amherst, A.; 8, Lowell Textile, H.; 11, A. I. C., A.; 15, Vermont, A.; 16, St. Lawrence, A.

VARSITY TRACK

Springfield hailed its strongest track team in recent years this season when fourteen lettermen, led by Co-Captains Roy Lang and George Linck, reported for action. The field events were particularly well manned with lettermen three deep in nearly every event.

Coach Judd found the squad suffering from "Selective Service Blues" because of the loss of Rog Burton, N. E. javelin champion. However, Bill Booth, defending 220-yard champion, will continue to be a major asset to the team. The war limited competition to meets with Wesleyan, Amherst, Northeastern, and Connecticut.

Varsity Tennis

Coach Brock's tennis material looked exceptionally outstanding at the beginning of the season with five lettermen, led by Captain Ace Rogers, reporting for service. Don Richardson, junior class stylist, despite an injured knee, looked exceptionally good during the season.

The Maroon racquet wielders undertook a seven match schedule which found them opposing Trinity, St. Johns, University of Connecticut, City College of New York, Coast Guard, Worcester Polytechnic Institute, and Rhode Island State.

Varsity Lacrosse

Under the guidance of Dr. Frank M. Mohler this year's lacrosse squad gave great promise of providing stiff competition for all opponents. Captain "Pete" Jarina led a large group of hopefuls against Loyola University in Baltimore where the Maroon forces performed creditably. With a small nucleus of veterans, the Springfield stickmen were able to present a strong team supplemented by several sophomores. An ambitious schedule will see the Sachems play Yale, M. I. T., C. C. N. Y., New Hampshire, Harvard, and Tufts.

Frosh Sports

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

Coach E. W. Pennock took over the freshman football coaching reins this year to turn out a yearling club that ended up with a .500 average. The '45 men looked like future varsity material in their 20 to 7 triumph over the A. I. C. Frosh in their finale.

Co-captains George Athanasian and Norm Handshaw led the team. This is likely to be the last freshman eleven during the war emergency if freshmen are eligible for the varsity sports for the duration.

FRESHMAN SOCCER

Under the very able leadership of Coach Harry Lee, the freshman soccer team had an extremely successful season, winning four games and tying one. The lone tie, a 1-1 affair with the Yale yearlings, came midway in the season after victories over Nichols Junior College and the University of Connecticut freshman booters.

The Leemen then went on to win over the M. I. T. first-year men and the Williston Academy squad. Goalie Mort Thau was elected captain of the team.

FROSH CROSS-COUNTRY

Although they won but one meet the freshman cross-country team coached by Artie Byrnes, showed vast improvement as the season progressed. The lone victory was scored at the expense of the Mass. State Frosh. Losses were suffered at the hands of Amherst and Wesleyan Frosh and Stockbridge School. Those who received numerals were Captain Ken Perry, Joe Hart, Al Wilson, Hal Hayes, Ed Katz, Bill Whitaker, Stet Ingraham, Bob Beetz, and Manager Harold Swanson.

FRESHMAN BASKETBALL

Climaxing their season with a great Homecoming victory over the Providence Frosh, Coach Wendell Mansfield's yearling basketball team finished up a most successful schedule, sporting five victories as against one defeat.

Victories came at the expense of Monson Academy, Cheshire Academy, Nichols Junior College, Worcester Academy, and the Providence '45-men. The University of Connecticut was the sole team to down the little Maroons. Pat Huntington was elected honorary captain of the team at the end of the season.

THE FRESHMAN GYM TEAM

The Frosh gym team was coached through a successful season of exhibitions by the captain of 1941's varsity team, Bill Rappaport. Seven exhibitions were presented, which was more than the usual season's allotment. The outstanding performers of the team were those boys who had previously had considerable experience on the apparatus. They include Henry Etheridge, Allon Kurth, and Co-captains Joe Hart and Roy Zimmerman.

FRESHMAN SWIMMING TEAM

Although scoring but one victory in four dual meets the yearling swimmers showed vast improvement as the season progressed and will probably furnish the varsity with several good performers next year. The victory was scored over the Connecticut plebes, while the defeats were at the hands of Deerfield Academy, Worcester Academy, and the Amherst Frosh. The highlight of the season was the winning of first place in the freshman 400-yard freestyle relay at the N. E. I. S. A. meet at Amherst.

FRESHMAN WRESTLING

Despite almost entirely new material and a small squad, Coach Sargeant's yearlings acquitted themselves well. The match scores went against them but the team showed enough drive, together with a knowledge of fundamentals, to make a contribution to the varsity effort next season.

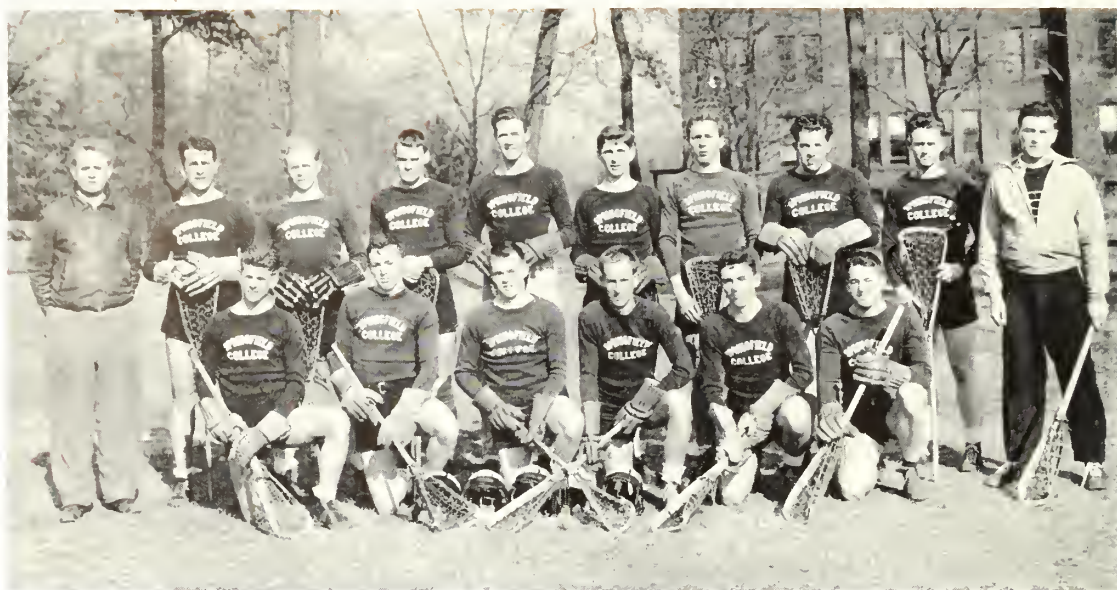

The team gained valuable experience by competing in the first New England wrestling meet for freshmen. Owing to the war and lack of yearling teams, the freshman New England tournaments are likely to be discontinued.

FRESHMAN BASEBALL

Coach Charles Silvia, veteran swimming coach, has taken over the leadership duties for the yearling baseball forces. An enthusiastic group of candidates met his opening call and prospects for a successful season are bright. The Sachem plebes face a five-game schedule opening with the A. I. C. cubs on April 30. After that the Springfield Frosh will oppose the Amherst Frosh, Connecticut Frosh, Nichols Jr. College, and Monson Academy.

FRESHMAN LACROSSE

A green squad of freshmen with but two men possessing past experience combined to field a tough lacrosse ten which gave opposition, worthy of a more experienced outfit, to all teams on the schedule. Under the tutelage of Pete Jarina, varsity captain, the yearlings progressed by leaps and bounds, quickly grasping the fundamental techniques of the game of the gutted stick. A good part of this year's freshman team will be present next year to strengthen the varsity ranks.

FRESHMAN TRACK

Former National Intercollegiate high jump champion and present Springfield College graduate student, Artie Byrnes, coached the freshman track and field forces through an abbreviated 1942 season. The '45 men presented a well balanced unit, with no particular stars, but a team capable of holding their own with opposing teams. They held meets with the University of Connecticut freshmen, Choate Academy, Nichols Junior College, and Cheshire Academy.

FRESHMAN TENNIS

Number one varsity man, Don Richardson, took over the coaching reigns of the '45 tennis team, and turned in a fine job, developing a team that matched the pace which the varsity tennis men set. With yearlings Mort Thau and Wilbur Renken the only really experienced players on the squad, Richardson's job was a difficult one.

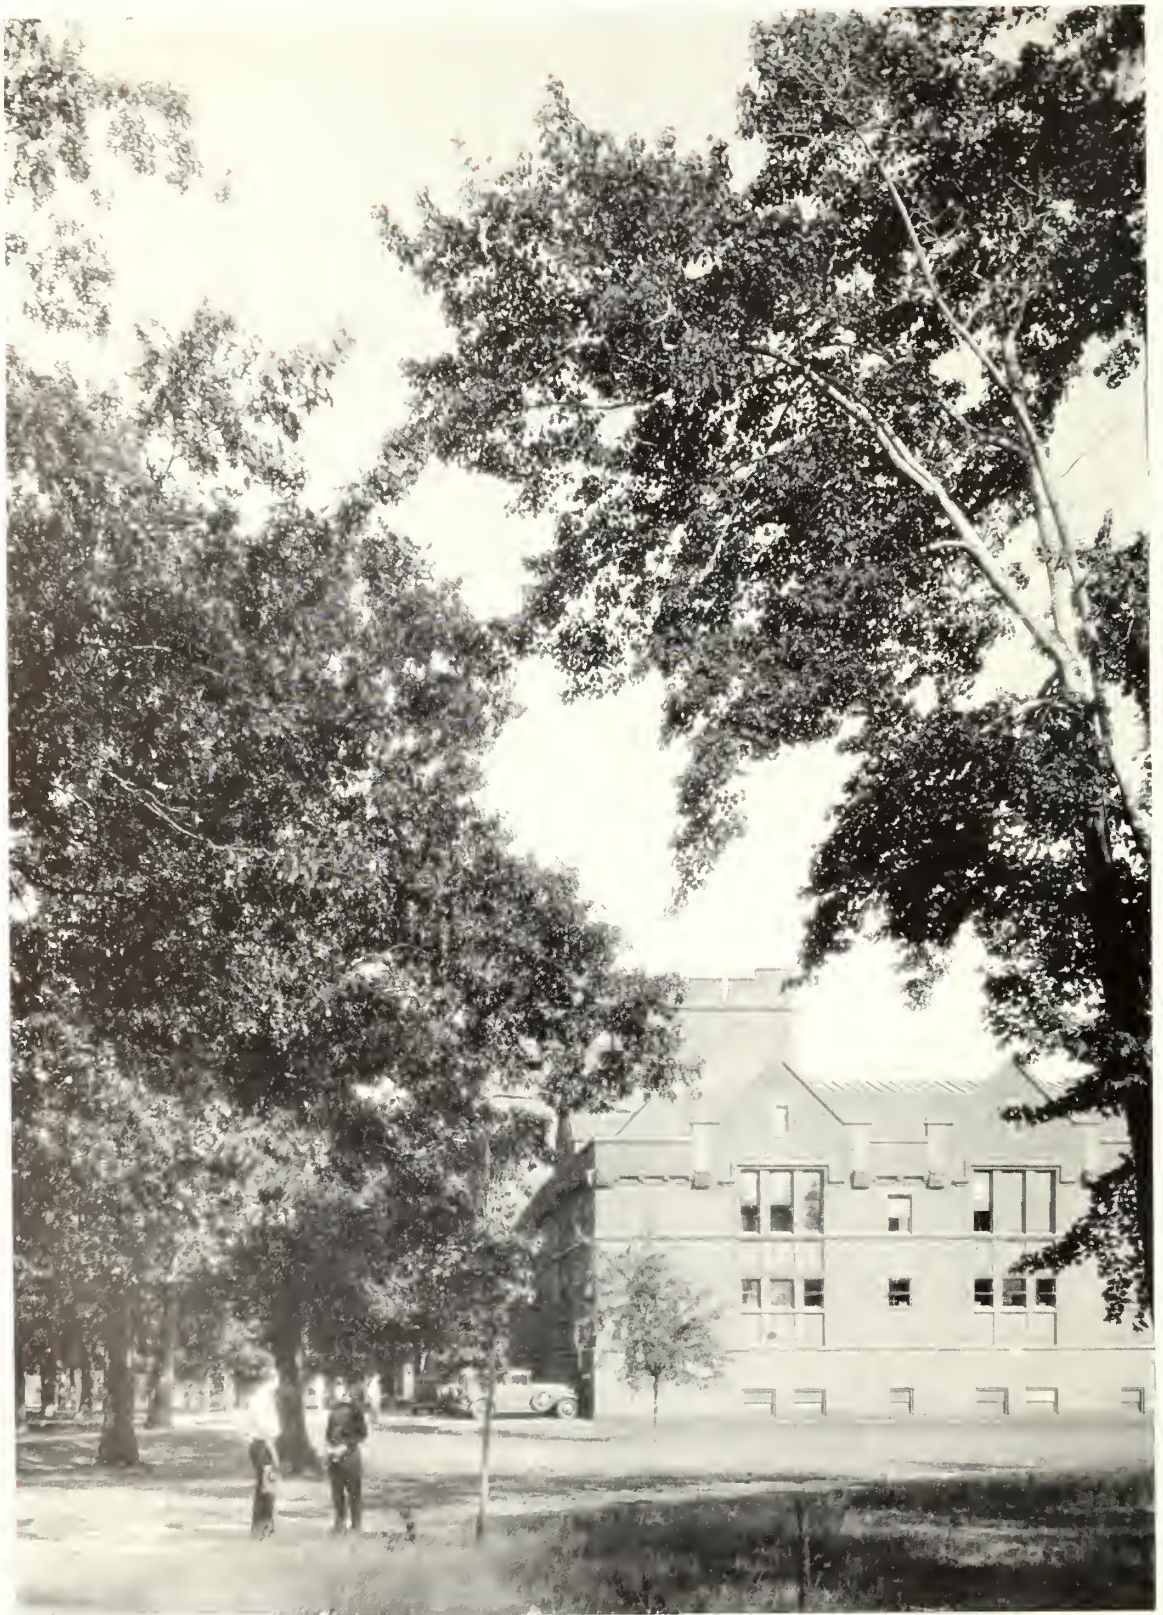

The first-year tennis team engaged in four matches with Nichols Junior College, Mount Hermon Academy, Dean Academy, and a Springfield High School.

WITH the culmination of the school year, freshman sports at Springfield College will no longer be a reality. Because of the expected lack of adequate material in upperclass ranks, the Frosh will be eligible for varsity competition for the duration.

It is, therefore, with special significance that the sport spotlight is focused upon the men of '45. They are the last of a long line of yearlings who have competed for Springfield as a freshman unit. Their fine record of victory, loyalty, and sportsmanship in all phases of intercollegiate competition will serve to hasten the return of the Freshman Rule when the world returns to normalcy.

Organizations

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council functions to unify the student body, to govern the conduct of students, and to financially support and control the student activities in the interests of the student body and the college. This is a difficult job in normal times, but in the face of an accelerated curriculum and the interruptions of Selective Service, the task confronting the Council was greatly magnified. The work of the Student Council during the 1941-42 school year is a monument to student and college service.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES BOARD

The work of the Social Activities Board was more difficult than usual this year because of the increased pressure resulting from the "speed up" program. Practically all activities were maintained, although general attendance at meetings and social functions fell off considerably. Long hours of discussion and group thinking were spent in solving the problems which confronted the Board in revising policies on Open House, the use of Carlisle Foyer, and awards for meritorious service to the college.

ATHLETIC BOARD

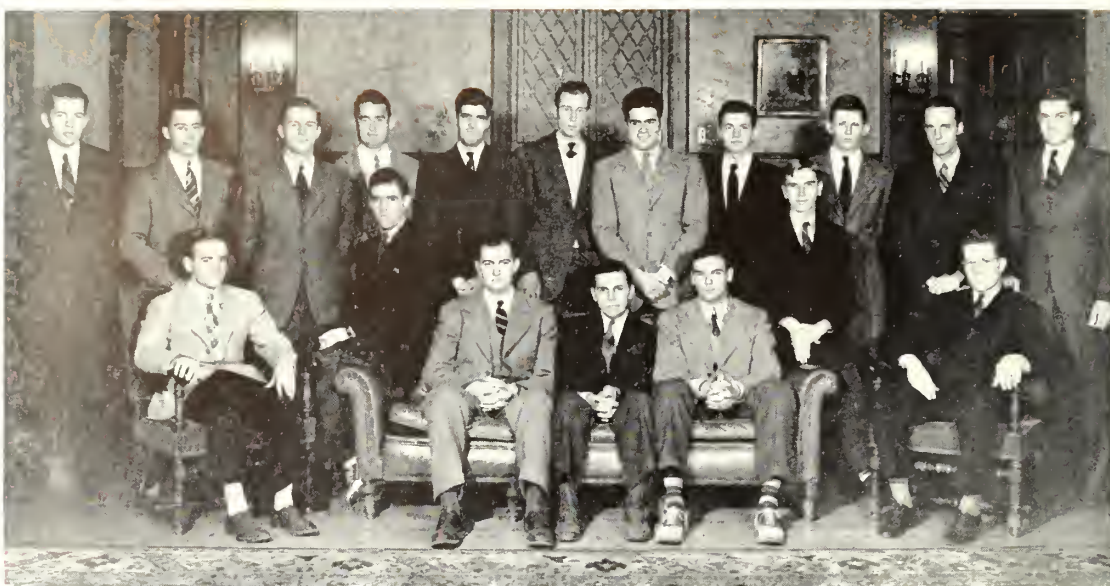

GLEE CLUB

With the ever-present problem of trying to run a tremendous athletic program with little funds, the Athletic Board, under the capable leadership of Dr. Fred G. Bratton, ably aided and abetted by Graduate Manager of Athletics Harold S. DeGroat, has done remarkably well. Too, in the face of other universities' decision to use freshmen in varsity sports, the Athletic Board held fast to their resolution that freshmen shall not compete on a varsity level until the school year 1942-43 begins. Theirs was a trying task in a year of many changes in the athletic realm.

For the first time in recent years glee club membership was thrown open to members of the freshman class. These worthies responded enthusiastically and soon formed the nucleus of a better-balanced glee club than Springfield has had in years. After a grand presentation at the Home Gym Exhibition, the group looked forward to further success in the Home Concert during Prom Week-end. Much credit belongs to Max T. Ervin for his two years of capable directing. Kenneth L. McEwen was featured tenor soloist, and a brass choir supplied novel accompaniment to several of the glee club's selections.

THE SPRINGFIELD STUDENT

Despite decreased income, the STUDENT came out regularly by limiting issues to four pages while maintaining the excellence of the paper. The STUDENT was the first college newspaper in the country to send issues to students in the forces. Polls were conducted to find another name for athletic teams, and to determine the girl desired by the students "to comfort them wounded on the battlefield." The old staff successfully ended their careers with the annual "Hell" issue.

DRAMATIC CLUB

Duplicating the success they engendered last year in the stage play Quality Street, the Springfield thespians again united dramatic efforts with the Mount Holyoke Dramatic Society to present the hilarious Nugent & Thurber comedy, The Male Animal.

A new and more important role has confronted the Dramatic Club this year in presenting entertainment to ease the tension beset by war, and the club has responded to this task by preparing and presenting some of the many new and fascinating modern plays.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

"Shall we Convoy?" (June); "Should There Be Another A. E. F.?" (October); "United States' Position In The Far East" (December); "America In A Post-War World" (January); "Our Position In Western Hemisphere Solidarity" (February); — this is a sampling of the program material of the club in a year which saw tremendous, history-making developments.

Attendance at regional conferences and joint meetings with Mount Holyoke, Westfield Teacher's, and American International Colleges constituted a significant portion of the year's program.

TEA AND TOPICS

The Tea and Topics Club has attempted to meet some of the cultural needs of campus life by presenting a program to stimulate cultural interest and to expand student knowledge and appreciation of literature, art, and music. A lecture on "Humor in Music" and on "Hand-reading and Handwriting Analysis," discussions of art, a campus movie program, and group attendance at a symphonic concert were events in the club's program of variegated cultural activities. A cup of tea always made discussions more pleasant and brought each meeting to an enjoyable ending.

CALVERT HALL

CHIVERS elected editor of the yearbook! Senior pictures taken in Alumni Hall studio! Chivers resigns! Faubert and Hall elected co-editors! Bids submitted! Budget drastically cut - - prices going up! New bids submitted and contracts awarded for greatly reduced MASSASOIT!

With this rather hectic beginning, the 1942 MASSASOIT was started on its way toward becoming a reality. We present it to you now — sorry it couldn't be larger, but proud of what we have done with so little capital. We'd like you to consider it a memorial to the traditional Springfield College spirit of service which remains undiminished in a world of chaos.

To those who have helped us get the book into print — to The Pond-Ekberg Company, the Massasoit Engraving Company, Mrs. N. Juanita Messick, and sportswriters Buckley, Havel, and Lehmann — we'd like to express our sincere thanks and appreciation. — The Staff

JUNIOR PROM COMMITTEE

Dancing to the youthful music of Tommy Reynolds and his orchestra, approximately 200 couples made the Junior promenade the outstanding social event of the year. The formal was held on May 1, at the Holyoke War Memorial.

Under the able direction of Walt Bally, a committee consisting of Ed. Keyes, Burr Keegan, Tom Best, Don Meyer, Bob DeGroat, and Ken McEwen with the faculty assistance of Mrs. Sargeant and John Pond made the affair one to be remembered.

ALPHA PHI OMEGA

This group consists of college men with Scouting backgrounds who are desirous of continuing the ideal of service by participation in a program designed to help the college and the community. Gamma Eta, the Springfield chapter, has made its most significant contribution by publishing the College Directory for the past three years. Its members have also served as volunteer leaders in Scouting, aided in the Victory Book Campaign, and brought groups of Scouts to football games at the college.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

The Student Christian Association attempts to relate and make more meaningful to the greater values of life the many problems of local and universal interest which face Christian college students. Through its program it has continued to accomplish this aim.

Visitations to various churches, discussions with other college organizations, and an evening study group were among the highlights of the year's program. Delegates were sent to the Allentown Conference, inter-faith conferences at various colleges, the National Assembly in Ohio, and the Northfield Conference.

MAROON KEY SOCIETY

The Maroon Key Society is a service organization on campus, which extends the "good neighbor policy" to visiting athletic teams by welcoming our guest rivals and playing the genial host during their stay. Beside their "handshaking" activities and visitor's valet service, the Maroon Key is an active group in the social life of the campus and has staged several unique and successful dances during the year. The society is composed chiefly of sophomores, with three officers from the junior class presiding.

Varsity Club

Carrying with it the prestige of a membership composed of varsity lettermen, the Varsity Club did considerably much to renew and indoctrinate school spirit and to raise team training standards. Among other successful Varsity Club projects were the establishing of a trophy room and team picture gallery and the supervising of interclass athletic championships. With two campus dances and a Prom Steak Bake the club's social amenities were well carried out. The boys have established a precedent for future club members.

Aquatic Club

Fulfilling its purpose to stimulate interest and promote activities in aquatics, the Aquatic Club climaxed its year's activities with the successful presentation of the Second Annual A. A. U. Swimming Championships. Fully aware of the national aquatic situation, the club was well represented at the Aquatic Forum in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. A Winter Home-coming Splash Party and several dances were other events highlighting the Aquatic Club's program under the competent leadership of Ed Leech and his reliable crew.

OUTING CLUB

"An unorganized organization"—this is the Outing Club, a unique club dedicated to recreation in the out-of-doors.

Participating in a six-college program, the Outing Club ranks as one of the most active of campus organizations. A feature of the Fall schedule was a mountain hike with Mount Holyoke over the Holyoke mountain range. During the winter months skiing held the spotlight—no experts, but fun for all. Canoe outings, over-night bike trips, barn dances, and more hikes are scheduled to climax the activities of 1941-42.

THE BAND

This year a very colorful and enthusiastic college band gave momentum to an unprecedented era of school spirit. The musicians, under the very capable direction of Professor Max Ervin, provided music and entertainment at football, basketball, and wrestling contests, besides playing at pep rallies and convocations.

The band was recently inducted into the New England Band Association and sent Manager Berle Thompson as a delegate to participate in a broadcast of the induction ceremony held at St. Anselms College.

Congratulations Class of 1942

May your future be as bright as the sparkling photographs we took of you for THE MASSASOIT.

We are proud of your pictures.
. . . we have done our best for you. You will be increasingly proud of them, too, as years go by, for they will be your permanent record of this memorable occasion — your graduation.
